

Independent Expert Witness

What does it involve?

An independent expert witness can be the key to a successful outcome, so selecting the right one is an important step.

How we can help

Our directors are highly experienced in testifying across a wide variety of matters involving accounting issues, damages, valuations, intellectual property and financial investigations.

Axiom Forensics' experienced team, under the guidance of the directors, are able to assist our clients in the identification, evaluation and quantification of damages and losses.

As an independent expert witness we are experienced at providing expert reports that are tailored to the specific issues at hand. Should a matter proceed to a court hearing, we have extensive experience in providing expert oral testimony.

A brief summary of services that we can provide as an independent expert witness includes:

- Independent expert reports and testimony as an expert witness in court.
- Quantification of damages, including loss of profits and future economic loss.
- Business valuations for private or listed companies, assets, joint ventures and intellectual property.
- Contract pricing and billing disputes.
- Regulatory pricing disputes.
- Critique of opposing expert reports.
